

Bridges Are Blown Up by Viet Cong

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong saboteurs today blew out the three center spans of the big permanent bridge built by U.S. Army engineers in Vietnam, but the American Command said it expected traffic to be moving over a pontoon bridge by Thursday morning.

U.S. headquarters also announced the loss of four American helicopters in combat Monday and Tuesday, with one American killed and six wounded. Three of the choppers were shot down by enemy gunners along the jungle invasion routes northwest of Saigon. This raised to 914 the total of U.S. helicopters shot down during the war.

A military spokesman said frogmen apparently floated a massive charge beneath the heavily guarded 1,000-foot Phu Cuong Bridge just before dawn. About 180 feet of the bridge was blown out, but there was no report of casualties.

The bridge, 18 miles north of Saigon was one of the busiest in the nation, handling supply traffic for two U.S. divisions northwest of the capital.

Completed last June, the bridge was the pride of the U.S. Army engineers. It floated on piles driven almost 300 feet into the silt, and special protection against floating mines or frogmen was built around the piles.

In the air war, U.S. Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers streaked to within two miles of the Cambodian border and set off a massive chain of explosions in a Communist ammunition dump filled with rockets and mortars, military spokesmen reported today.

More than 100 bombers attacked the ammunition dump Tuesday in retaliation for heavy enemy shelling of a U.S. 4th Division base in the central highlands four days ago.

Pilots reported at least 37 secondary explosions that touched off two huge fires and sent fireballs 8,000 feet into the air.

The strikes were 15 miles west of the town of Dak To. Several ground clashes were reported across the country, but the heaviest fighting continued in its fifth week.

In the heaviest fighting reported, South Vietnamese rangers said they killed 79 Viet Cong in a day-long battle Tuesday in the Mekong Delta 64 miles southwest of Saigon. Nine rangers were killed and 30 wounded.

The fight erupted when a government battalion made a helicopter assault landing and ran into an enemy force of unknown size.

U.S. Marines clashed twice with enemy forces during sweeping operations just south of Da Nang. Eight Marines and at least three of the enemy were killed and 10 Marines were wounded.

About 30 miles north of Saigon, soldiers of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division reported killing seven Viet Cong during a reconnaissance mission. No U.S. casualties were reported.

The political front was quiet as South Vietnamese and American officials awaited the outcome of the American presidential election.

So far as could be learned there were no U.S.-Vietnamese conferences seeking to get President Nguyen Van Thieu to send a delegation to the postponed Paris peace talks. There also was no word of any high-level meeting among the South Vietnamese leaders, who apparently were waiting to see if Richard M. Nixon would be elected.

The Vietnamese leaders think Nixon would support Thieu's refusal to attend a conference that gives the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front any more status than being part of North Vietnam's delegation.

The Paris peace talks had been scheduled to resume today with both the NLF and the Saigon government represented for the first time, but the United States postponed the meeting because of Thieu's refusal to send representatives.

Premier Tran Van Huong told newsmen the Saigon government in a few days would make public a "new formula" for peace negotiations it considers acceptable. Although he gave no details, he said it would not compromise South Vietnam's vital interests.

"We will attend peace talks whenever we have in our hands enough sure guarantees," said Huong.

Transcontinental Television was inaugurated on Sept. 4, 1961, with President Truman's address at the Japanese Peace Treaty Conference in San Francisco.

challenge is offered. Fulbright, noting Bernard had declined to concede, remarked that one of those who lost to Fulbright in the summer primaries "hasn't conceded yet."

He spoke of Jim Johnson, who labeled Fulbright the "pin-up boy of Hanoi" in that campaign.

The victory lifts Fulbright to seventh in seniority in the Senate. Among the six ranking above him is Sen. John L. McClellan, also a Democrat from Arkansas.

Bernard, 41, a businessman-planter from Earle, weighed heavily in his campaign advertising on statements by Fulbright regarding communism. "Communism... is a doctrine of social justice," went one of the Bernard reports quoting Fulbright.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, asserted that the remark had been taken out of context and altered to make it appear that he did not comprehend the concept of communism.

The senator's full comment cited by Bernard was: "Communism, for all its distortions, for all the evils that have been committed in its name, is a doctrine of social justice. It is messianic in this stage of its revolution."

The quote came from a speech by the senator at Fort Smith two years ago, and a fuller version—with the context included verbatim—was available in Fulbright's book, "The Arrogance of Power."

By a 10-9 vote, the 30-member Greater Little Rock Ministerial Association criticized Bernard's campaign tactics saying they trampled on the truth.

One clear difference between the candidates concerned the Vietnam war, although it was less an issue itself than a backdrop for Bernard's questions about Fulbright's understanding of communism.

Fulbright, 63, long has advocated an unconditional halt in the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam, the step President Johnson took last week to the expressed "extreme delight" of the senator.

Bernard said he, too, favored a bombing halt, but only on the condition that the North Vietnamese pledge a reciprocal reduction in their war effort.

Groups aligned with opposition to U.S. involvement in the Vietnam war, and with disarmament, not scholarship, is the first aim of education.

Peace Talks Threatened With Delay

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's plan to halt the bombing of North Vietnam and expand the Paris peace talks was threatened with indefinite delay and possible collapse last week when South Vietnam suddenly withdrew its agreement to the deal in a bid to change the terms.

The split between Washington and its South Vietnamese ally could have stalled the end of the bombing until after Tuesday's presidential election—and thus denied Democratic nominee Hubert H. Humphrey whatever political benefit he might have derived from it.

There has been some speculation here that President Nguyen Van Thieu was interested in putting off action until after the election to see whether he might get the terms he wanted if Republican Richard M. Nixon won.

Nixon himself, who has generally supported Johnson's efforts to negotiate an end to the bombing and advance the peace talks, said in an election eve television broadcast Monday night that "the negotiations came apart at the seams" when the Saigon government refused to participate in the talks.

Washington authorities had kept the split with South Vietnam secret. They finally disclosed details Tuesday after plans to start the expanded peace talks Wednesday collapsed. Thieu had refused to send a delegation to Paris.

His demands, which had been presented to Johnson through Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker in Saigon a week earlier, were two.

He wanted the United States to get an agreement from North Vietnam that it would deal directly with his delegation in Paris. He also wanted Hanoi to agree that a delegation of the South Vietnamese National Liberation Front (NLF) would participate in the talks only as a part of the North Vietnamese delegation.

Johnson rejected these conditions on the ground that they would produce new counter-demands by Hanoi, upset the understanding he had already reached, and deadlock negotiations indefinitely.

The North Vietnamese had come to terms with him in a series of exchanges through negotiators in Paris on October 27th and 28th.

The final proposal to which they responded had been sent to them by Johnson about October 15. According to administration officials, President Thieu had approved that proposal before it was sent.

Thus on Monday, the 28th, the President felt he was ready to end the bombing. At his request U.S. Commander Gen. Creighton W. Abrams Jr. flew back from Saigon, arriving at the White House at 2:30 a.m. Tuesday, to give his personal approval and join in a final review of military arrangements.

ament causes were known contributors to Fulbright's campaign fund. Bernard, on the other hand, drew the support of H. L. Hunt, the Texas oil millionaire who supports and sponsors some causes generally classed as conservative.

Bernard publicly stated he wanted neither campaign activity nor financial contributions from Hunt, but the Texan, declaring an ardent desire to see Fulbright defeated, did not promise to abandon efforts to beat Fulbright. The Bernard organization said Hunt apparently was producing some of the anti-Fulbright material attributed to Bernard, although Bernard had no connection with it.

Fulbright survived a four-man primary contest July 30 by getting 53 per cent of the vote. His closest contender there was Jim Johnson, the 1966 Democratic nominee for governor. Johnson, who helped George C. Wallace get his American independent party presidential candidacy going in Arkansas, subsequently devoted most of his time to his personal business and the Wallace campaign.

Also losing to Fulbright in the primary were Foster Johnson, a music publisher from Little Rock, and Bobby K. Hayes, who heads a flooring manufacturing operation at Calico Rock. Hayes endorsed Fulbright after the primary, but on the day before the general election he switched his allegiance to Bernard, saying he was standing up for the country.

Manhood, not scholarship, is the first aim of education.

U.S. Spokesman said the blast also injured 19 sailors and three soldiers.

Wallace Is Winner in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas withdrew from the Democratic fold in a presidential election for the first time in its history, unofficial tabulations of Tuesday's general election vote showed today.

Voters of the state aligned themselves with the American Independent party banner of George C. Wallace, a presidential race also-ran, but a critical factor nonetheless.

With 2,026 of 2,645 precincts reported, the vote was Wallace 160,867, Hubert H. Humphrey 122,607 and Richard M. Nixon 116,810.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said in Little Rock Tuesday night that he believed the House of Representatives would "in all probability" have to settle the presidential election.

This would come about apparently if none of the three major presidential candidates captured the 270-vote Electoral College majority necessary to win election.

Arkansas has six votes in the Electoral College and, with Wallace's victory, they will be cast by a slate of persons selected by the American Independent party state convention.

CROXTON HAS (from page one) settle the presidential election. With 197 of 524 precincts reported, roughly 38 per cent of the precincts reported, the vote was 19,937 for Alexander and 8,633 for Newcomb in the 1st District race.

In the 3rd District contest, with 325 of 801 precincts reported, roughly 40 per cent of the precincts, the vote was 20,735 for Hammerschmidt and 12,414 for Croxton.

The 1st District race was the most hotly contested. The incumbent, E. C. "Took" Gathings, a Democrat, is retiring after almost 30 years in Washington.

Gathings is from West Memphis. Both of the contenders to succeed him are from Osceola. Alexander said Tuesday night he believes he is ready to "get on with the job."

Alexander, 34, almost doctored in his clean-cut features, was called a "machine candidate" by his GOP foe. The same charge was leveled by Jack D. Files, an attorney from Brinkley who was swamped by Alexander in the Democratic primary runoff.

For the most part Alexander ignored the accusation. Newcomb, 40, owner of two Osceola drug stores and 500 acres of farmland, caused a stir with a challenge to Alexander to debate.

Alexander agreed, but talks on a proposed format for the confrontation broke down, with each side accusing the other of backing out. Eventually, Television Station KAIT at Jonesboro proposed a format, which Newcomb accepted. Alexander declined, saying he had obligated himself to other campaign appearances.

There was little disagreement between Alexander and Newcomb on the issues of greater substance. Each pledged himself to efforts to increase jobs, aid farmers and make other improvements in the district.

Alexander led the ticket in an eight-man primary July 30 with 25,000 votes, then beat Files in the Aug. 13 runoff.

Hammerschmidt, 46, owner of a lumber business at Harrison, all but ignored Croxton in the 3rd District campaign.

The congressman responded with vigor only once to a Croxton charge—one that said he had misused his congressional mailing privilege by shipping political material.

ported. Amendment 55, which would have made county judges administrative offices in the counties, lost by a vote of 136,569 for and 155,961 against in 2,073 precincts.

Act 306, which would create an Arkansas Dairy Commission, was crushed. The vote, with 2,066 precincts reported, was 76,394 for and 227,370 against.

With 2,066 precincts reported, Act 457, the party affiliation law, met defeat by a vote of 52,859 for to 248,385 against.

The proposal for a constitutional convention stemmed from a 1967 recommendation by the Arkansas Constitutional Revision Study Commission.

Any new constitution would be voted on by the people in the 1970 general election.

The proposal to increase the number of amendments the legislature could refer to the voters would have required a majority vote by the General Assembly on four proposals and a two-thirds vote for submission of the remaining four.

The issue on county judges would have taken away their judicial duties and made them administrative offices. It also would have provided for the legislature to set the number of justices of the peace in each county and to revise the duties of the quorum courts.

The party affiliation act would have required persons to register to vote by parties, either Republican, Democratic or Independent, and would have prevented them from voting in any other primary, with independents voting only in the general election.

The proposal to create a five-member dairy commission would have been in effect only seven months if it had met approval. The measure, as passed in 1967, called for the disbanding of the commission on June 30, 1969, unless re-enacted by the 1969 legislature. The measure would have allowed the commission to set minimum prices for milk and frozen dairy products and to supervise and investigate the dairy industry in the state.

The initiated act amending Workmen's Compensation, which was strongly backed by the state AFL-CIO and opposed by the state Chamber of Commerce, was possibly the most hotly contested of the ballot issues.

It would have increased from $38.50 to $49 the maximum weekly benefit for a worker injured on the job the maximum weekly benefit for a worker injured on the job and would have increased from $14,500 to $19,900 the maximum total benefits an injured worker could receive.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Battel

DAUGHTER'S KIDDING HURTS

Dear Helen: I guess this is childish, but I'm becoming more depressed every day. Our teenage daughter never misses an opportunity to wisecrack about my bad points or how I am getting old and ugly. I'm 39, and not ready for the discard pile. Maybe it's my fault because we've always kidded about my big feet, and my husband and children joke a lot at my expense.

Here's an example: Someone noted that our year-old daughter has pretty dimples, and my teenager said, so everyone could hear, "Yeah, not like Mom's whose dimples come from old age." She always gets it across that my hair is gray at the roots, and where would I be without a girder?

Would you please tell kids, Helen, that kidding hurts when it comes too close to truth, and a kind remark or a compliment can make a parent feel like all the work and effort really isn't wasted?

Even if they can't bring themselves to say nice things, just staying away from, "Sawdust again?" (about my meat loaf which is very tasty, really,) and "No, HER mother is young, not like you!" would help. I know most of it is just hard kidding, but it gets harder and harder to take. —SAD MOM

Dear Mom: Your letter says it better than I can. I hope your daughter — and many other families — read and recognize themselves. What they consider backhanded compliments (they wouldn't say these things unless they meant the opposite) hurt like the devil when a woman's mirror tells her they might be coming true.

So long as "old good Joe Mom" laughs at the slams, she'll get 'em. Sometimes she can alter the pattern with sincere praise for her husband and children — who catch on and copy her. Other hard-kidding families require a blow-up. Perhaps this letter on the breakfast table will do it for you. — H.

Dear Helen: My husband, daughter and I live with my in-laws. It was a mistake moving in. They said we might as well save rent, until we can afford a home of our own. We're working on the down-payment. I can almost tolerate their eating out of the serving bowls and telling me how to raise my daughter. But Helen, they have no modesty!

My father-in-law slops into the living room in his T-shirt and undershorts. My m-in-l starts undressing no matter where she is or who is here, my friends included.

How can I tell them I deserve more respect than I'm getting? — MRS. J.

Dear Mrs. J: Non-paying guest don't gripe at the service. They either accept the drawbacks with the generosity, or leave. As Harry Truman said, "If you don't like the heat, get out of the kitchen!" — H.

Dear Helen: I read that in Macon, Ga., it is illegal to put your arm around a girl without good reason. Tell me, Helen, what would the City Dads consider "good reason?" — LAW STU-

Some 80 Per Cent of Families in U.S. Now Own Automobiles

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The United States has become literally a nation on wheels. Some 80 per cent of its families now own automobiles.

The next time your know-it-all neighbor starts showing off his knowledge, ask him if he can name three animals that don't have gall bladders. The odds are 999 to 1 that he won't think of the right ones—deer, elk and moose.

Your wife probably rarely has more than a couple of U.S. governors to dinner at a time. But if she should invite a group of them, here's the proper protocol: they should be ranked not by age, charm or length of time in office but by the date when their states entered the Union.

Prosperity note: For the executive who likes to keep in instant touch with business matters, there is now available a portable radio telephone he can tote in his attache case. The price? A mere $2,160—or one can be rented for $49.50 a month.

Do you suffer regularly from eyelid flutter? Psychiatric studies show this symptom is common among manic-depressive patients. In your case, however, it is probably just a sign that you suffer from insomnia and aren't getting enough sleep.

Quotable notables: "The fundamental defect of fathers is that they want their children to be a credit to them." — Bertrand Russell.

Cow juice: Every time you drink a glass of milk it gives you enough energy to walk a mile or dance an hour or climb 196 steps or play cards for 3½ hours.

Computer Flaw Forced Suspension

NEW YORK (AP) — A computer program flaw Tuesday night forced the News Election Service—NES—to suspend use of its prime system midway through the tabulation of returns in the General Election.

NES then switched to an emergency tabulation system using totals produced independently in seven regional centers. J. Richard Elmers, executive director of NES, said: "We have no reason to believe that the national totals for president we produced up to the time we abandoned that system were wrong. The emergency system has corroborated those totals, but because a part of the programming produced unreliable totals for individual states, we were forced to switch completely to the emergency source of returns to insure the production of correct totals."

George Langnas, president of Programming Methods Inc., which handled the computer program, said that thorough and extensive testing of the program failed to disclose a prior warning of the failure which occurred.

NES tabulated the vote for president in each state as well as each race for governor, U.S. Senate and House of Representatives. The results were made available simultaneously to its five members—the two news services and three major television networks.

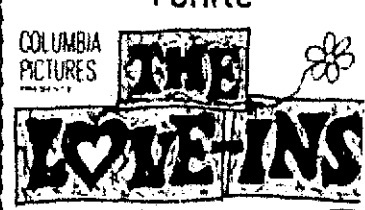

The emergency system which NES resorted to produced returns much more slowly, particularly for the individual states, than the prime computer system.

Bobcats Are Hit by Injuries

By RALPH ROTTEN
Star Sports Writer

An doubts that the Hope Bobcats were jinxed received a jolt yesterday with the news of still another starter, center David Jones, now out for the year.

After starting since the second game in the middle spot, David had preformed well and had come into good size at 195 pounds in his senior year. However, on Monday night David underwent an emergency appendectomy and is surely unable to play in the final three games.

This adds to the turnabout in the Bobcats' personnel, which began losing its numbers by injury before the Magnolia game. And it will be a Hope team with a different look this week against Camden Lincoln, with even a possibility of several freshmen playing who moved up from the junior team last week.

At the ends this week could be any number of candidates, but Jim Singleton seems most likely at the tight slot. If David Still is recovered enough from his illness of the weekend, then the fine junior should at least be able to punt Friday night. If he cannot start, though, there is a good chance that freshman Lynn Norton will move in.

Jim Alford returns at the weak-side tackle slot, but someone will have to replace Carroll Beck on the other side. Mike McQueen is a best bet, as Kenny Mullins is no longer on the squad, but Mickey Allen is always available.

Still around at guard is Larry McWilliams, and either Ronny Brown or Calvin Willis will get the role at the other position. In Jones' place at center is sophomore Randy Wright, who has been improving steadily in practices and in "B" game experience.

Larry Massanelli is ready to go at quarterback, and the fullback spot gained more depth with the performance of Danny Reynenga. Along with Gary Wheelington, Danny is very adequate in providing rest for starter Jerry McWilliams, who also plays monster man on defense.

Finally more depth has been acquired at slotback with the addition of freshman Tommy Miller, who had an outstanding junior high season. Miller should spell Rodney Jones frequently at the spot, as Rodney will be seeing much action on defense in place of Carroll Beck.

Mike Monroe has shown up well at fullback, and no new addition is around to help him. On the offense as a whole has taken a definitely different look, but whether it is all for better or worse will not be known at least until Friday night.

Over on defense things should be a bit more secure, but still shaky. More starters remain, but more of them will be going both ways this week.

Singleton and Brown retain their end positions, and Mike McQueen will probably be joined by Rodney Jones at the tackles. Alford and Larry McWilliams will make a difference at the linebackers, as this has grown into about the main strong-point on the entire team.

Mickey Allen moves back to his favorite home, at noseman, for the Camden Lincoln battle. Mickey has really been tough on defense this year, as many coaches will testify to, and he was as effective at linebacker last week as he has been all year at noseman.

Jerry McWilliams has done a fine job at the monster man all year, and his relief has been in the form of rest from offensive work.

Ironicly, defensive halfback Dillon Wheelington could be pushed strongly by his brother Ray, only a freshman but a fine athlete. Ray could help out anywhere in the secondary, subbing Dillor, as well as Sidney Waller and John Spraggins. There are several others who could play, as practically all of the positions are wide open. Depth will likely not be such a strong factor with Camden Lincoln, but it will make a large difference against Nashville and Arkadelphia.

It's a somewhat crippled but rejuvenated Bobcat team, and the younger nucleus should be full of enthusiasm and spirit for simply being able to participate.

They will be ready to play, but they will certainly make some mistakes in their exuberance. If you attend the game Friday night in Camden's Coleman Stadium, then you will get a good view of the main-stays of next year's Bobcats.

This is not to cut down the team's chances, for the Cats actually could come on easily to win the last three games. But other coaches around 4-AA have already commented on Hope's possibilities for next year, and all of them are good.

But we still have to worry about November, 1968. Looking ahead to next fall, one could tell even with no football knowledge that a strong finish this year would have a good effect on attitudes throughout the off-season program.

Lakers Win But Gain No Ground

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Elgin Baylor pulled off a last-minute rescue act, but it didn't help his Los Angeles Lakers gain any ground on San Diego in the National Basketball Association's torrid Western Division race.

Baylor whipped in a 10-foot jumper at the gun to tie it, then contributed four points in overtime Tuesday night as the Lakers put down the Chicago Bulls 112-109.

Meanwhile, surprising San Diego survived a late New York rally for a 113-109 conquest in the night's only other NBA game.

That left the Rockets on top of the Western Division with a 6-3 mark, just a shade ahead of Los Angeles, 6-4.

Oakland rode a 30-point outburst by Rick Barry to a 135-116 victory over the Dallas Chaparrals in the night's only American Basketball Association match.

Los Angeles led 78-77 after three quarters and increased it to 91-85 with four minutes left before Chicago rallied for a 100-100 tie with 45 seconds to go.

The Bulls' Flynn Robinson scored with just seven seconds left before Baylor's desperation shot sent the game into overtime.

Baylor finished with 33 points, while Jerry Sloan had 25 for Chicago.

New York used a dunk shot by Cazzie Russell with 10 seconds left to trim its deficit to 111-109, but San Diego's Pat Riley countered with a layup with a second to go to secure the Rockets' third straight victory.

Don Kojis led San Diego with 28 and John Block and rookie Elvin Hayes each contributed 25. Russell topped New York with 26.

Oakland, with a commanding lead in the ABA's Western Division, pulled to a 53-42 halftime command and coasted the rest of the way to its sixth triumph in seven games. It was the second straight loss for winless Dallas.

Rookie Warren Armstrong had 22 points for the Oaks. Charles Beasley led Dallas with 17.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles of the NFL acquired defensive tackle Jim Norton on waivers Tuesday from the Atlanta Falcons.

Montgomery Is Player of Week

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Texas' Leo Brooks is the prime reason Southern Methodist's flame throwing Chuck Hixson got burned last Saturday. For such heroics, Brooks received the most ballots as the Southwest Conference lineman of the week.

Brooks, a 233 pound, 6-5 defensive tackle, dropped the pass happy Hixson on his backside four times. Once Brooks lashed out from the almost horizontal position to nail the quick-throwing Hixson.

The Associated Press panel picked Brooks for the lineman honor just ahead of teammate Charles Speyrer.

The back award went to Arkansas' sensational sophomore quarterback Bill Montgomery, who completed 20 of 28 passes for 258 yards and two touchdowns against Texas A&M in a 25-22 victory.

"We knew it would be a long day of rushing the passer," Brooks said. "We just kept trying to get through, figuring that the law of averages would work in our favor."

Texas, operating from a prototype 4-3 defense most of the day in the smashing 38-7 victory, dropped Hixson eight times.

"It wasn't anything new that we put on just for the Mustangs," Brooks said. "It's one of our regular defenses that we've had all along. We just stayed in that formation more for SMU."

Brooks had nine tackles for the day.

While Hixson was being gobbled up by the Texas pass rush, Montgomery was getting more protection from his blockers.

"I had tremendous protection... tremendous protection, that's what makes the passing game," said Montgomery, a near sighted lad who wears contact lenses. "Our receivers did a tremendous job of getting open."

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles remarked before the season started that Montgomery, a Carrollton, Tex., product, was the "most poised sophomore quarterback I've coached."

Broyles still sees no reason to change his mind.

"I think he's getting better each week," said Broyles.

Montgomery said the Arkansas pro offense "is really exciting and such a challenge." But he said "I haven't learned an inkling of what there is to be learned."

Montgomery rallied Arkansas from a 14-6 halftime deficit in the A&M game. He hit nine passes in a row, including two for touchdowns. Montgomery completed 16 of 20 in the pressure cooker second half.

He never lost his poise—even after he had made a bad pitch on one down that lost almost 20 yards.

"Coach Broyles always says don't let one mistake lead to another," said Montgomery. "If you make a mistake you just forget about that one."

The Aggies found only one way to stop Montgomery for a few plays and that was accidental. He lost his contact lenses on a tackle.

But Montgomery is thinking all the time. He always has an extra pair on the sidelines.

Only one vote kept Montgomery from winning the award unanimously—and that one went to Texas Christian's Ross Montgomery who scored three touchdowns against Baylor.

Other linemen receiving votes were Lynn Garner of Arkansas Clay Mitchell of TCU, Fred Warren of Texas Tech and Speyrer.

Ex-Baseball Player to Congress

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Republican Wilmer "Vinegar Bend" Mizell, a former pitcher with the St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates, won a seat in the U.S. House of Representatives from North Carolina's 5th District Tuesday.

Mizell, 37, born in Vinegar Bend, Ala., left the major leagues several years ago to become an executive of a Lexington soft drink bottling firm.

McLain Is Voted Most Valuable

By LARRY PALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer
DETROIT (AP)—Denny McLain has probably said, "This is the greatest thing that ever happened to me," about a half dozen times this year.

But Tuesday, the often brash Tiger pitcher received what is perhaps the ultimate honor in baseball. He was unanimously named Most Valuable Player in the American League.

"This the greatest honor I have ever had bestowed on me," he said. "I seriously didn't think I would get it."

The 24-year-old rightlander is still negotiating his 1969 contract with Tiger management and he reportedly is seeking a salary of up to $100,000. How would the MVP award affect his contract talks?

"I don't think it will hurt it," he said with a laugh.

McLain achieved many honors this year. He became the first American League hurler to win 30 games and first Tiger ever to win 30. He finished the season with a 31-6 record.

He led Detroit to its first pennant since 1945 and, although Mickey Lolich became the star pitcher in the World Series, McLain won one game as the Tigers beat the St. Louis Cardinals four games to three.

Last week he was named Cy Young Award winner for being voted the best pitcher in the American League.

McLain is the first AL pitcher to win the MVP Award by a unanimous vote and the first to win it at all since Philadelphia's Bobby Shantz in 1952.

McLain was placed first on every ballot by the 20 members of the voting committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

The only other players in either league to get all the top votes were Orlando Cepeda, St. Louis, 1967; Frank Robinson, Baltimore, 1966; Mickey Mantle, New York Yankees, 1956; Al Rosen, Cleveland, 1953; and Hank Greenberg, Detroit, 1935.

Catcher Bill Freehan, Denny's battery mate, was runnerup in the balloting with 161 points to McLain's 280. Fourteen points were awarded for first, nine for second and so forth, down to one for 10th.

Others in the top 10 were: Ken Harrelson, Boston, 103; Willie Horton, Detroit, 102; Dave McNally, Baltimore, 78; Louis Tiant, Cleveland, 78; Dick Motulski, Detroit, 71; Frank Howard, Washington, 63; Carl Yastrzemski, Boston, 50; and Mel Stottlemyre, New York, 43.

The National League's MVP will be announced next Wednesday.

Lamonica Is Player of Week in AFL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
NEW YORK (AP) — Daryle Lamonica passed for 352 yards in less than three quarters against Kansas City Sunday, completing 18 of 32 passes, tossed for two touchdowns and ran for another himself before he was forced out of the game by a knee injury.

"I was real disappointed when I had to leave," the Oakland quarterback said. "I had my sights set on a lot more completions."

Still, the Raiders easily whipped the Chiefs 38-21, and for his performance, Lamonica was named the American Football League's offensive player of the week by The Associated Press today.

The victory moved Oakland to within one-half game of the Western Division-leading Chiefs. But the Raiders now are more concerned about Daryle's left knee, which buckled when linebacker Jim Lynch hit him midway through the third quarter.

"It's not as serious as we thought," Lamonica said. "No cartilage or ligaments were torn."

"I feel confident I'll be able to play."

But the Raiders would be a lot happier if they knew Lamonica would be ready for Denver Sunday.

Arkansas Favored Over Rice

NEW YORK (AP) — Anyway you look at it, Saturday's clash between unbeaten Penn State and rugged Miami, Fla., boils down to a Ted-to-Ted confrontation.

Ted Kwalick, State's tremendous tight end, will be tangling with Ted Hendricks, the Hurricanes' towering defensive end.

Kwalick, a 6-foot-4, 230-pound blocking and pass-catching marvel, saved the Nittany Lions' No. 4 national ranking last Saturday by scooping up an onside Army kickoff and rambling 53 yards for the deciding touchdown in a 28-24 victory over the Cadets.

Hendricks, a 6-foot-8, 222-pound All-American, sparked a Miami defensive charge that demolished Pitt 48-0 last Friday night.

The hunch is that Kwalick, fleet halfbacks Bob Campbell and Charlie Pittman and the nifty Nittany Lion defensive unit will prevail in a tight squeeze.

We creep into the dog days of a long season with a .716 accuracy mark on 295 correct picks, 103 bloopers and 14 standoffs, with the ties counted against us. Last week's slate was 42-13-2.

Here's the way some of the other top games around the country this weekend look from here:

Alabama over Louisiana State: LSU's Charlie McClendon, a coaching disciple of 'Bama's Bear Bryant, hasn't beaten the Master in four tries.

Purdue over Minnesota: Leroy Keyes & Co. snagged Minnesota's Rose Bowl plans last fall with a 41-12 zinger. They should win again.

Tennessee over Auburn: The Plainsmen will be a high hurdle for unbeaten Tennessee to clear. But the Vols have the perfect answer... High hurdler Richard Flowers.

Southern California over California: Orange Juice Simpson, limited to 67 rushing yards by Oregon last week, is due to break free again.

Kansas over Oklahoma: The second "S" in Jayhawk quarterback Bob Douglass' name stands for sensational.

Texas A&M over Southern Methodist: Texas popped the SMU balloon last Saturday.

Georgia over Florida: The Bulldogs held Houston's offensive juggernaut to 10 first quarter points. Gators should be a lark for Bill Stanfill and friends.

Elsewhere: East—Army over Boston College; Syracuse over William & Mary; Harvard over Princeton; Dartmouth over Columbia; Yale over Pennsylvania; Cornell over Brown; Holy Cross over Massachusetts.

South—Georgia Tech over Navy; Kentucky over Vanderbilt; Mississippi over Chattanooga; North Carolina State over Duke; Wake Forest over South Carolina; Virginia over North Carolina; Clemson over Maryland; Houston over Memphis State; Virginia Tech over Richmond; Florida State over Mississippi State; Tulane over Tulsa; West Virginia over the Citadel.

Midwest—Ohio State over Wisconsin; Michigan over Illinois; Michigan State over Indiana; Notre Dame over Pittsburgh; Iowa over Northwestern; Missouri over Iowa State; Nebraska over Kansas State; Colorado over Oklahoma State; Ohio University over Bowling Green; Louisville over Cincinnati; Kent State over Marshall; Miami in Ohio over Dayton.

Southwest—Arkansas over Rice; Texas over Baylor; Texas Tech over Texas A&M; Christian; West Texas State over Western Michigan; North Texas State over Texas El Paso.

Far West—Oregon State over UCLA; Air Force over Arizona; Oregon over Washington State; Stanford over Washington; Utah State over Utah; Utah State over Brigham Young; New Mexico State over Wichita State; San Diego State over Southern Mississippi; Idaho over San Jose State.

Kickers Take Over Lead NFL Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — The kickers finally have taken over the lead in the National Football League scoring race with Mike Clark of Dallas edging fullback Bill Brown of Minnesota, 61 points to 60.

Brown is the only nonkicker among the top 10 scorers in the latest league individual statistics released today.

Don Meredith of Dallas has moved past Bart Starr of Green Bay in the passing statistics, based on Meredith's percentage of completions, 56.9, touchdown passes, 14, percentage of interceptions, 3.6 and average gain, 8.13.

Gale Sayers' tremendous day at Green Bay, 205 yards in 24 carries, boosted the Chicago speedster's rushing total to 824 yards despite Leroy Kelly of Cleveland, who gained 174 yards against San Francisco. Kelly is second with 763 yards.

Clifton McNeil of San Francisco still is way out front in pass receiving with 48 for 676 yards, including five for 92 yards and a touchdown against the Browns.

Hixson Still Leading in Statistics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
College football this season is producing some of the highest scoring in years, and the reason is not strictly due to the forward pass.

If anything, the 1968 college campaign probably will go down in the books as the year of the rushers—the fellows who move the ball on the ground.

It's almost certain that at least 16 players—compared with the 1967 record of 10—will finish the season with more than 1,000 yards rushing.

The country's leading ground gainer among major colleges is Gene Morris of West Texas State, who has piled up 1,199 yards in eight games. His closest challenger is O. J. Simpson of Southern California, who picked up 67 against Oregon last week for a total of 1,047 in six games.

Morris and Simpson also are engaged in a duel for scoring honors, each with 15 touchdowns for 90 points and the lead in this race.

Other top rushers of the year State, 913; Ron Poe James of New Mexico State, 911; Steve Owens of Oklahoma, 910; Ron Johnson of Michigan, 902, and Paul Gipson of Houston, 861.

Chuck Hixson of Southern Methodist is both the country's leading passer and its total offense pace-setter. He has completed 195 of 341 passes for 2,217 yards and 12 touchdowns. He has lost ground rushing, having a total of 2,128 yards in the air and on the ground, but he has been responsible for 17 touchdowns.

Greg Cook of Cincinnati is second in overall offense, with 1,929 yards and 19 TDs. Terry Hanratty of Notre Dame is third with 1,745 yards and 14 TDs. The best punter is Bill Bell of Kansas, averaging 42.9 yards.

Beaten and thoroughly bruised after his 10-round bout with the 38-year-old Tiger, DePaula muttered:

"All these people say he's old. I like to see them get in there with him."

BUDDY SYSTEM in Vietnam, where a Marine helps another cross a small river. Although the leathernecks made no contact with enemy troops, the rapids gave them another kind of battle.

species that is vanishing faster than any other. The New York Zoological Society has expressed concern about the declining number of birds of prey, such as eagles,

Heavy Smoking a Cause Of Buerger's Disease

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—What is Buerger's disease? Is there any cure?

A—Buerger's disease, or thromboangiitis obliterans, is an inflammation of the arteries in the legs. It is more common in men than in women. Heavy cigarette smoking is an important causative factor. It is serious in that, unless its progress is checked, one or both legs may be lost.

One of the chief symptoms is a severe pain in the legs brought on by walking a short distance. The victim has to rest a few minutes before he can proceed another lap (intermittent claudication).

Several drugs have been tried but none can be recommended. The most important preventive measure is to quit smoking and the best way to improve the circulation is to walk for an hour or more daily, stopping to rest each time the pain occurs.

Special care must be taken to prevent thermal or traumatic injury to the feet. In severe cases, hospitalization is required. Inhalation of oxygen by mask in a chamber under a pressure of 30 pounds per square inch or two atmospheres helps to prevent gangrene. If ulcers or gangrene do occur, various operations can be performed to improve the circulation.

Q—My doctor says I should see a specialist about a lump he can feel in my prostate. I have no symptoms of anything wrong so I feel this would be foolish. What do you think?

A—The graveyard is full of persons who decided for themselves that there was nothing wrong with them. If you have a lump anywhere in your body and your doctor thinks you should have a further examination, you owe it to yourself to follow his advice. If the lump is an innocent one, the specialist will not think you foolish for consulting him. If it is cancerous, the sooner it is removed the better your chance for a cure.

Q—I am 16. All my friends have taken to sniffing airplane glue. What bad effects are they in danger of?

A—It is always a temptation to run with the crowd but this is a sign of weakness rather than strength. In the case of glue, your sniff-happy friends should know that these

When you have a part score of either 60 or 90, all suits become equal. With 90 one of anything makes game, with 60 two of either a major or minor suit makes game. With this in mind the winning player will avoid opening three card club and diamond suits and even if he is a devout follower of the five card major suit prophets, he will open four card majors in preference to preparing for a rebid with a weaker minor suit opening.

He also will not rebid over his partner's two over one response unless he holds either a very good suit or is interested in a slam. With this in mind, responder won't go to the two-level in a suit unless he is prepared to play it right there.

One of these four card
major openings paid unexpected dividends when South decided to fly the flag after his opponents had stopped at two diamonds.

West would have had no trouble making three or four diamonds. With 100 honors he would have collected almost 700 points. After South ruled Adams, stuck in his three club bid, son, Beatrice Adams, Josie Wilfong, Zachre Nelson, George Lee lose two hearts and two more trumps.

We don't think much of South's three club bid. It is mighty dangerous to get into the bidding at the three level with a broken five card suit.
He paid well for his bid but if East had opened one club
there is no chance that South would have gone into action and the best East and West could do would be to take the easy game and rubber.

Art Crop Is Rooted In Slav Soil

By TOM A. CULLEN
European Staff Correspondent

KOVACICA, Yugoslavia—There is more money in art than in hogs, the farmers of this little village, located 30 miles north of Belgrade, have discovered.

Nearly every man, woman and child in this village is a spare-time painter. The best of their canvases fetch fancy prices in London, Paris and Berlin, where they are prized as examples of naive art.

If a sudden art craze were to sweep a Kansas farming community, and if the resultant output were to be snapped up by the big Manhattan dealers, one would have a rough American equivalent to what has happened in Kovacica.

But the farmers here are not Kansans, or even Yugoslavs, for that matter. They are Slovaks brought here 110 m. Czechoslovakia 100 years ago by the Austro-Hungarian empire to fight the Turks.

They stayed on to till the soil, and today they are among the most loyal of President Tito's supporters. In return, Tito lets them speak the Slovak language and retain other old customs.

Big, burly Martin Paluska, 50, whose face is creased with laugh wrinkles, explains how the present flowering of art began over a chess game in 1938.

"While playing chess with Jan Sokol, my neighbor," Paluska recalls, "I mentioned that I had taken up painting. To my surprise, Jan confided that he was a spare-time painter, too. After that we looked around and discovered that other villagers had the artistic urge."

Some Slovak farmers had decorated the walls of their houses. Others had ornate wooden chests, using designs copied from Slovak embroidery. After Paluska, Sokol and the others discovered that they were not alone in pursuing this hobby, the competition among them became fierce. The so-called "Kovacica School of Painting" was born.

None of these farmers-painters have had any formal instruction in art. They are the Yugoslav equivalent of Grandma Moses, the American primitive painter who taught herself, and whose work now hangs in major American galleries.

The Kovacica paintings are mostly happy, making heavy use of primary colors. Weddings, harvest celebrations, tavern scenes, these are the subject matter. A few have political overtones—one shows huge crowds with bombs tied around their necks hovering over fleeing peasants.

Paluska, whose work has been exhibited in London, Edinburgh and Sao Paulo, laughs off suggestions that he give up farming to devote all his time to art. "I would be lost if I gave up farming," he explained. "My roots are too deep in the soil."

Martin Jonas, who has had one-man art shows in Israel and Switzerland, feels the same way. In Israel, all 36 of Martin's paintings on exhibit were sold for an average of $400. But Jonas couldn't break away from his farm chores to even attend the opening of the exhibit.

Seventeen of Kovacica's most talented farmer-painters have been showing their wares annually at the Mona Lisa gallery in Paris for the past five years and their paintings have sold well to the sophisticated Parisians.

I asked the head of the Kovacica Cultural Center if Paluska, Sokol, Jonas and other painters were envied by the other villagers. "No," he replied, "but they are respected, as much for being good farmers as for being good painters."

In Kovacica, art may be a major crop, but corn is still No. 1.

Nixon Was Confident, Cheerful

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, described as maintaining "cheerful confidence," was acknowledged by aides early today as finding the presidential race closer than expected—perhaps because of the Vietnam bombing halt.

Herbert K. Klein, director of communications for the Republican presidential candidate, said the contest with Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey was tighter than anticipated and asserted, "the bombing halt, I think, played a role."

Nixon, spending the long election night in a 35th floor suite at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, was said by Klein to be standing behind his public pledge to support the popular vote winner should the election be thrown into the House of Representatives.

But Klein said the possibility that Nixon would wind up throwing his support to Humphrey in the House was academic. He predicted the GOP nominee would emerge as the popular vote favorite.

Still receiving returns at about 5 a.m. EST, Nixon passed word to newsmen that there would be no further word from his camp until 10 a.m.

Klein said Nixon felt it would not be proper to comment until he had gotten returns from his former home state of California. The spokesman said, "California we look at as the key to winning" and he forecast Nixon would be the winner there by at least 300,000 votes.

The Republican nominee, before the balloting started, had said he would top Humphrey's vote by 3 to 5 million.

Recalling the 1960 election that Nixon narrowly lost to John F. Kennedy, Klein had this to say about the election night 1968:

"Dick Nixon feels a lot better (than 8 years ago) and his family is very excited about it."

Klein was asked for reaction to Humphrey's lead in Maryland, where Republican vice presidential candidate Spiro T. Agnew is governor. He said the Nixon camp "always recognized Maryland was more likely to go Democratic" and asserted that Agnew was not chosen for the ticket for the purpose of car-

PRISONERS BAKE BREAD

NEW YORK (AP) — Prisoners on Rikers Island bake five million pounds of bread products a year, the city's chief warden reports. George McGrath, commissioner of the Correction Department, has 105 inmates working with 10 civilian bakers in the island's two-year-old $2.5-million automated bakery. They bake bread, buns, pies and gingerbread for the department's 10,000 inmates and 3,100 civil servants and for the Parks Department and the school lunch program.

Under the inmate wage incentive program, the prisoners are paid 3, 6 or 10 cents an hour, depending on their skills. McGrath said ex-convicts trained in the bakery are welcomed by baking companies because they know how to operate the most modern baking equipment.

rying Maryland.

Nixon was getting his election returns from relays of aides room of his suit passing along states and the latest television and news reports.

Mrs. Nixon and their daughters, Patricia and Julie, were down the hall with Julie's fiancé, David Eisenhower. Nixon at one point walked down to chat with them, but otherwise remained cloistered with his aides.

Nixon-Wallace Vote Spells End of Profligate Era

I was one of the closest national elections in history — but when you combine the Nixon and Wallace votes, both being anti-administration, you spell it out as a landslide against the Washingtonians.

Which means the end of a profligate era — a return to responsible and solvent government. The issue between Nixon and Wallace was merely the question whether to make that return immediate or gradual. Nixon took the gradual approach because he had before him the grim example of Goldwater in 1964 — an example that the free-wheeling Wallace chose to ignore.

It got Wallace nearly a clean sweep of the South — but Nixon's policy of gradual reform got him the Presidency.

It was your editor's judgment that America would get further on a start-up program of moderate reform than with the crash policy advocated by Wallace. The Star didn't fare so well in its home territory but, according to the election returns, its view coincided with the opinion of the nation.

Ever since the second Roosevelt administration in the 1930's the federal government has been operating on the policy that each and every social program with a modicum of good in it should be underwritten whether the Treasury had the tax funds to pay for it or not.

Which recalls your editor's repeated reminder that the difference between a Liberal and a Radical is simply this: A Liberal will spend all the tax money available on government programs — but a Radical will go into unlimited debt, justifying questionable means because the end is worthwhile.

But the most worthwhile end of any Washington administration is the preservation of this republic — meaning solvency — for a bankrupt government eventually collapses.

It collapses because a steadily climbing national debt inflates the currency, cutting the value of the dollar, increasing prices faster than wages — until the people finally recognize fraud and are incited to revolt.

This is the picture Dick Nixon walks into next January. We were a long time creating this picture — we will be a long time reforming it.

But we made a start Tuesday — and circumstances indicate America will work her way out of the national jam. It will have to be a continuing program for years to come — and I think George Wallace's stellar performance in rallying almost the entire South against the old Washingtonians is proof that the reform program is here to stay.

Wallace has destroyed the Democratic spenders in the South — if not permanently, then for years to come. His effect will be one of two things: (1) Creation of a permanent third party in the South, or (2) Splitting the South permanently between the two major parties — the effect of either course being to rob the Northern Radical Democrats of a sectional bloc which they have to control in order to win a national election.

This was illustrated yesterday — making Tuesday, Nov. 5, 1968, a landmark in the common man's battle to defend himself against the growing army of federal agents.

Election Hinged on Three States

WASHINGTON (AP) — Illinois, California and a handful of smaller western states held the key early today to whether the presidential election could be decided before a Dec. 16 electoral college vote or later decision by the House of Representatives.

Richard M. Nixon's hopes for an electoral majority of 270 votes hinged on holding California and either recapturing Illinois or Montana, Oregon and Washington from Humphrey.

Humphrey's chances of an immediate electoral decision depended on winning Illinois and California.

George C. Wallace, although making a poorer showing than expected in states outside the Deep South, seemed likely to win 45 electoral votes — possibly enough to deny Republican Nixon or Democrat Humphrey the electoral majority.

Humphrey built his lead in crucial Illinois on returns from the Chicago area. Downstate areas, traditionally Republican, were expected to pull Nixon closer or win him the state.

Illinois' 26 votes and California's 40 would give Nixon enough for victory barring a string of reversals in other states.

At 1:20 a.m., Nixon had won 152 electoral votes and led in states with 99 more for a potential total of 251.

Humphrey had won 147 and led in states with 88 more for a potential of 235.

The engineer of the train was J. T. Mooney of Thayer, Mo., and the conductor was H. M. Smith, also of Thayer.

Democrats Beat Off GOP Challengers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Four Democrats seeking re-election to state offices defeated their Republican challengers Tuesday while a fifth Democratic incumbent appeared headed toward victory.

Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell, Auditor Jimmie "Red" Jones, Treasurer Nancy Hall and Land Commissioner Sam Jones won re-election. Secretary of State Kelly Bryant maintained a large lead over Lynn A. Davis, the former State Police Director.

With 2,188 of 2,645 precincts reported, Purcell had 235,682 votes to Jerry Thomasson's 157,242.

Mrs. Hall had 254,394 votes to 148,708 for Mrs. Leona Troxell with 2,153 precincts reported.

Jimmie Jones had 237,474 votes to 155,183 for C. W. "Whitely" Tyler of North Little Rock with 2,153 precincts reported.

Sam Jones led Ed Allison of Blytheville 215,631 to 164,341 with 2,153 precincts counted.

With 2,188 precincts reported in their race, Bryant led former State Police Director Lynn A. Davis 222,631 to 181,788.

V.-President Went to Bed Not Knowing

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey went to bed this morning not knowing whether he was to be the 37th president of the United States or just another former vice president.

"I feel sufficiently at ease so that I want to get a good night's rest," the beaming Humphrey told several hundred shouting supporters at his hotel election headquarters.

Humphrey supporters had been waiting in the hotel ballroom more than six hours when the vice president showed up.

"It's fair to say," Humphrey went on, "that we have done much better than most observers thought we would and about as good as I thought we would. There are critical states yet to be heard from — Ohio, Illinois, California and Washington.

"This is a donnybrook. Anything can happen."

Humphrey said several members of his family "have already seen fit to retire in confidence" — and that when his wife, Muriel, asked him whether he wanted her to get up and appear with him, he replied, "Well, dear, let's wait until we can announce a victory statement completely."

Humphrey said he had always been "a rather optimistic man — and tonight I feel that way."

"I feel that by the time the turn of day comes tomorrow, you and I are going to be a lot happier."

Humphrey, thanking his supporters, said the American people "have been mighty good to us. They have given us a great vote of confidence."

Thus, Humphrey followed in the footsteps of Democratic candidates of history like John F. Kennedy and Woodrow Wilson, who also went to bed before knowing the verdict of the electorate.

Fulbright Sweeps to Victory

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., swept to victory in unofficial vote tabulations today in his bid for a fifth term against a Republican who questioned his understanding of Communist designs.

Charles T. Bernard, who waged a vigorous campaign against Fulbright, had predicted he would get 53 per cent of the vote in Tuesday's general election, but that amount appeared far beyond his grasp.

It was Fulbright, the seemingly taciturn but often volatile veteran, who held a commanding margin in unofficial tabulations mounting at only a snail's pace.

With 1,266 precincts reported from a total of 2,645, roughly 48 per cent of the precincts reported, the vote was 125,544 for Fulbright and 81,252 for Bernard.

About midnight Tuesday, Bernard said his situation in the tabulations "doesn't look the best in the world," but added, "Time will tell. We haven't heard from all our strength yet." He said he might run again "if the proper

Most Acts, Amendments Defeated

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Three of the ballot proposals on Tuesday's general election ballot held slender leads today and their fate rested in the vote contained in about 600 unreported precincts.

The proposal for the calling of a constitutional convention received a favorable vote of 150,762 for to 147,271 against with 2,066 of the state's 2,645 precincts reported.

Also holding leads were Amendment 53, the "kindergarten amendment," and Initiative Act 1, which would amend the state's Workmen's Compensation Law.

With 2,073 precincts reported, the vote on the kindergarten amendment was 159,798 for and 153,327 against. With 2,066 precincts reported, the initiative act held a slim lead by a vote of 163,021 for to 163,130 against.

Four other ballot issues appeared headed toward defeat, with two of them going down in a landslide.

The vote on Amendment 54, would increase from three to eight the number of constitutional amendments which could be referred to the electorate, was 129,834 for and 164,954 against with 2,073 precincts reported.

Richard Nixon Wins Over Humphrey in the Closest Presidential Race in Years

Rockefeller Wins, Britt Is Trailing

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, who once saw his lead dwindle to 900 votes, pulled ahead by more than 8,000 votes today in his drive for a second term as Arkansas' only Republican chief executive since Reconstruction.

However, more than 200 boxes remained to be counted in his race against veteran state Rep. Marion H. Crank, the Democratic nominee.

The governor's running mate, Lt. Gov. Maurice Britt, was trailing his opponent, Democrat Bill G. Wells.

Rockefeller, counting heavily on this election to strengthen the two-party system in Arkansas, led Crank most of the way during the tabulations as vote totals trickled in at a snail's pace.

With 2,372 of 2,645 precincts reported, Rockefeller had 245,828 votes and Crank 237,587.

With 2,188 precincts reported, Wells had 213,267 votes and Britt 204,587.

$2.5 Billion for Pollution in 5 States

By MALCOLM BARR
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Voters in five states have authorized spending a total of more than $2.5 billion on pollution control, veterans and education.

But a liquor-by-the-drink proposal failed in the face of strong Mormon opposition in semi-dry Utah, Nevada, where gambling is a major industry, rejected a private lottery. And Nebraska denied 19-year-olds the vote.

The issues highlighted local referenda that appeared on the ballots of three-fourths of the states Tuesday. Most were money issues.

The biggest financial proposal was in Illinois, where a measure providing $1 billion for air and water pollution control appeared headed for approval.

New Jersey approved its biggest money proposal in history — $990 million for education, low-cost housing and transportation.

Michigan's largest bond issue ever passed provides $335 million for a 10-year battle against water pollution.

Virginia Gov. Mills E. Godwin's $81 million bond issue for college and mental hospital construction — a formal break with pay-as-you-go financing for the first time this century — won overwhelming approval.

In Pennsylvania, a plan to give Vietnam war veterans cash bonuses of up to $750 won overwhelming approval. It was the first time the state's citizens voted on a servicemen's bonus during a war.

Arizonans, meanwhile, junked the state's tax exemption for veterans of World War II.

Croxton Has Apparently Lost Bid

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Bill Alexander, a handsome young attorney, and John Paul Hamerschmidt, a quiet but prosperous lumberman, were headed toward victory today in Arkansas' two contested congressional races.

Alexander defeated Guy Newcomb for the U.S. House position representing the 1st District, a 15-county region bordering on the Mississippi River in north-east Arkansas.

Hamerschmidt, whose upset victory two years ago made him the state's first GOP congressman since Reconstruction, was capturing a second term in a race against Hardy Croxton.

Two other congressmen were elected without opposition in the general election. They are Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of the 2nd District and Rep. David Pryor of the 4th District.

Mills, Pryor and Alexander are Democrats, giving the party of Hubert H. Humphrey a 3-1 edge if party lines are the criterion that determines who will get Arkansas' vote if the House of Representatives must

Both Hawks, Doves Are Victorious

WASHINGTON (AP) — Victories of both hawks and doves Tuesday blurred the over-all impact of the Vietnam war in key Senate races.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and one of the most outspoken doves, won re-election, while Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., another dove, was defeated.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., another Foreign Relations Committee member who sharply attacked Vietnam policy, was trailing in his bid for re-election.

Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Edward Gurney of Florida were the most prominent hawks to win Senate seats.

Gurney, a Republican member of the House, captured the Senate seat vacated by retiring Democrat George A. Smathers.

Gurney, who advocated carrying the war to North Vietnam and blockading the port of Haiphong, defeated his Democratic opponent, former Gov. LeRoy Collins by a substantial margin.

Collins had called for pushing the Paris peace talks and for gradual de-Americanization of the war.

Goldwater, the GOP presidential candidate four years ago, won back a Senate seat after a campaign in which he said new leadership was needed to win the war.

Goldwater replaced retiring Democrat Carl Hayden.

Frank Church of Idaho and Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin, two more Senate doves, won re-election.

Food Stamp Program Progress

"The Hempstead County Food Stamp Program is moving toward its objective."

That's the way Mrs. Alma Drew, of the County Welfare Department, describes progress made toward helping low-income families get enough food, since the program began here October 1.

New applications are being received every day. They're getting every day. They're being processed as rapidly as possible by Mrs. Drew's staff at the welfare office on Elm Street.

"All families receiving state or county financial help have been contacted. They've been told how they can make welfare checks buy more food by using the food coupons," Mrs. Drew said. "We're making every effort to reach families who do not receive any cash assistance but are eligible for the Food Stamp Program."

Fifty-nine retail grocery stores in all parts of the county have been authorized by USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service to accept the coupons in payment for food, according to Mrs. Marie C. McEvoy, in charge of USDA's Texarkana Field Office.
